

eCornell
Online Course Guest Account
Access and Confidentiality Agreement

This agreement is between Tower Innovative Learning Solutions, Inc. (D.B.A. eCornell) and the individual requesting guest account access (the Guest) signed below. eCornell will provide guest account access, as requested by the Guest, to eCornell online courses. Access will be conducted according to all eCornell policies.

In consideration of the above and for the release of the information concerning eCornell programs, courses, learning models, or practices, the Guest agrees to the following:

1. The course access is limited to the individual registered to this account and such registration may not be shared with another individual.
2. Guest holds sole responsibility and liability for all issues resulting from access via Guest's assigned user name and password.
3. The access period is for thirty (30) days unless otherwise agreed upon with eCornell.
4. Guest will not copy in whole or part any online materials or information belonging to eCornell for the purposes of reprinting or otherwise using or transmitting the materials or information to any third party.
5. The materials in these courses are copyrighted to Tower Innovative Learning Solutions, Inc. d/b/a eCornell. Any distribution and/or duplication is strictly prohibited.
6. Your access to the online course materials is limited to the evaluation of its applicability for your or your organization's use. Guest access does not provide eligibility for a letter of completion or certificate of completion.
7. Guest acknowledges that any breach of this Agreement could result in substantial and irreparable injury for which monetary damages may not adequately compensate eCornell. Accordingly, eCornell shall be entitled to pursue injunctive relief in addition to all other available remedies for the breach of the Agreement.
8. This Agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of New York.
